Growth and Change

Good morning, everyone! We grow and change as time goes by. I'd like to share my growing experience with you. I used to be very shy. I was afraid to speak in class or join group activities. But now, I'm more outgoing. I often answer questions actively and even help organize class meetings.

This change started when my English teacher encouraged me to take part in a speech contest last year. At first, I wanted to give up, but she told me, "Bravery is trying even when you're scared." I practiced every day and finally won the third prize.

Now, I feel proud of my growth. I'm going to study harder and be more active in school activities. I will keep challenging myself to be better!
